The design of class discussion or exercise, practice, experience and so on:

The instructional approach for this course is a blend of lecture, field trip, mid-term exam, independent research, class discussions, activities and case studies, using collaborative processes. Lecture units include readings/ viewings/ listening and assignments to educate students and provide them with deep insight and prepare them for class discussion and field trip, enabling them to complete course requirements. Students are required to select their project subjects before the field trip, prepare all the background information and work out their research method to finish their report. Students are expected to be fully engaged and participate in all aspects of the course.

Field trip: choose a cultural resource in Shanghai and visit that place. Through field trips to the cultural attractions in Shanghai, students are required to interview local residents, merchants, experts and tourists; conduct on-site observation or questionnaire investigation to analyze the development plans and marketing strategies for these cultural attractions.

Branding video: a commercial to advertise the cultural attraction you selected in Shanghai (2-3 minutes). You should also collect video materials during your field trips.

Written report: Please select a cultural attraction of Shanghai and develop it as a city brand of Shanghai. This is a group project, composed by an oral presentation, a 3 minutes branding video, and a written report. In your written report, the following parts should be included: Introduction (What and why you select this cultural attraction as the subject of your project); Strategy (How to develop this cultural attraction in the city brand of Shanghai); Audience (What is the target market of your strategy, market characteristics); Channel (How to communicate your brand to the target market).
